

Introduction to Latin, Second Edition

By Susan C. Shelmerdine ISBN: (978-1-58510-390-4)

Chapter 17

Nouns

amor, amōris m.	love Caesar, Caesaris m.	Julius Caesar (a Roman general) castra, castrōrum n. (pl.)	camp castra ponere	to pitch camp clāmor, clāmōris m.	shout; cheer cŕīmen, cŕīminis n.	crime; accusation, charge fātum, fātī n.	fate, destiny ferrum, ferrī n.	iron; sword gaudium, gaudiī n.	joy, delight nūntius, nūntiī m.	messenger; message pŕīnceps, pŕīncipis m.	leader, chief; first citizen, emperor servus, servī m.	slave, servant signum, signī n.	sign, token, signal; (military) standard vīnum, vīnī n.	wine vulnus, vulneris n.	wound

Verbs

interficiō, interficere, interfēcī, interfectus	to kill, destroy canō, canere, cecinī, cantus	to sing pateō, patēre, patuī	to be open, stand open persuādeō, persuādēre, persuāsī, persuāsus (+ dat.)	to persuade vulnerō, vulnerāre, vulnerāvī, vulnerātus	to wound temptō, temptāre, temptāvī, temptātus	to try, attempt; test, prove

Subordinating Conjunction

quamquam	although
----------	----------